Theology, Church, and Ministry

A Handbook for Theological Education

EDITED BY DAVID S. DOCKERY

We live in a precarious time when many are questioning the necessity of formal theological education for ministers. Theology, Church, and Ministry: A Handbook for Theological Education helps readers understand the critical role theological education plays in equipping God-called ministers for service in the church. This distinct resource explains both the development and purpose of theological education as well as its role in student formation. The contributors include outstanding thinkers and leaders in the field of theological education, including Con Campbell, Tim Tennent, Mark Bailey, Kevin Vanhoozer, Dan Block, Robert Smith, Dana Harris, Malcolm Yarnell, Danny Akin, and Greg Wills, among others.

DAVID S. DOCKERY has been the president of Trinity International University in Deerfield, Illinois since 2014. Before coming to Trinity, Dockery served as president of Union University in Jackson, Tennessee for more than 18 years. He has also served as chairman of the board of the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities. Dockery has authored or edited thirty books including Renewing Minds, Shaping a Christian Worldview, and Christian Leadership Essentials.

Pastoral Ministry

The Ministry of a Shepherd, Volume 1 in A Treasury of Baptist Theology Series

EDITED BY DERON J. BILES

“So he shepherded them according to the integrity of his heart, and guided them by the skillfulness of his hands.” —Psalm 78:72

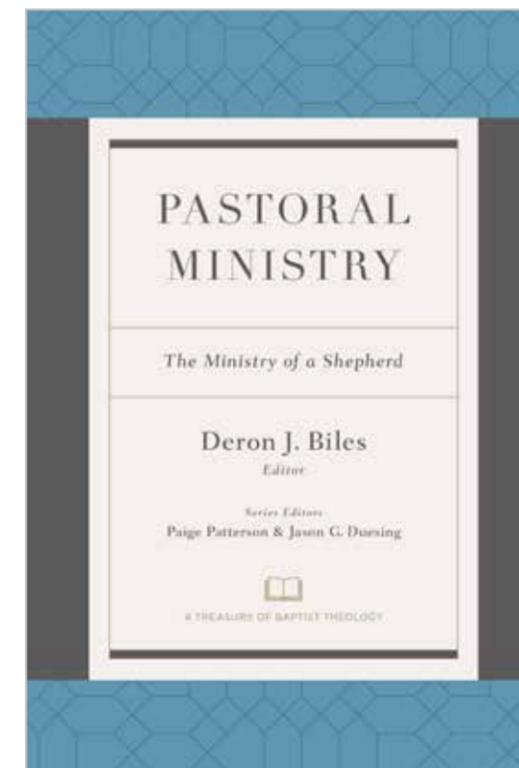

Being a pastor is an audacious calling—both a remarkable privilege and an unaccomplishable task. In general, the Bible talks about the identity of a shepherd more than the activity of a shepherd. Yet both are vital in ministry. Ezekiel 34 is God’s message to pastors: His template by which our ministries will be measured. Pastoral Ministry brings together this mandate of God, the needs of the sheep, and the model of the good Shepherd to uniquely inspire and equip you to fulfill your ministry as a shepherd.

DERON J. BILES is Director of the Professional Doctoral Program in the School of Preaching and Professor of Pastoral Ministry and Preaching in the School of Theology and the School of Preaching at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Texas.

Teaching the World

Foundations for Online Theological Education

JOHN CARTWRIGHT, GABRIEL ETZEL, CHRISTOPHER D. JACKSON, AND TIMOTHY PAUL JONES

More and more seminaries, Christian universities, and Bible colleges are opting to train future ministers and missionaries online.

What happens when the movement toward online education is shaped by pragmatic or financial concerns instead of Scripture and theology? Ministry training can be reduced to a mere transfer of information as institutions lose sight of their calling to shape the souls of God-called men and women in preparation for effective ministry.

How might online ministry training look different if biblical and theological foundations were placed first? Teaching the World brings together educators from a wide range of backgrounds and from some of the largest providers of online theological education in the world. Together, they present a revolutionary new approach to online theological education, highly practical and yet thoroughly shaped by Scripture and theology.

JOHN CARTWRIGHT is Associate Professor of Christian Leadership and Education and Associate Dean of Liberty University's School of Divinity in Lynchburg, VA.

GABRIEL ETZEL is Professor of Theology and Christian Leadership and Vice Provost for Undergraduate Education at Liberty University in Lynchburg, VA.

CHRISTOPHER D. JACKSON is Pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church and St. Peter's Lutheran Church in northeast Wisconsin.

TIMOTHY PAUL JONES is the C. Edwin Gheens Professor of Christian Family Ministry and Associate Vice President of the Global Campus at The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, KY.

Infants and Children in the Church

Five Views on Theology and Ministry

A congregation rejoices when a new child is added to its midst, yet the church often wrestles—in both theology and practice—with how to best receive and minister to infants and children entrusted to her care.

Frequent questions arise like:

- How are infants and children impacted by sin?
- How does God treat people who die in their infancy or childhood?
- When and how are children considered members of the church?
- When and how are children instructed in Christian doctrine?

Infants and Children in the Church addresses these critical and sensitive questions from a variety of rich traditions, including Eastern Orthodox, Roman Catholic, Lutheran, Reformed, and Baptist, so that Christians can make the most of every opportunity as they minister to children.

KEVIN E. LAWSON is professor of Christian education, and director of the PhD and EdD programs in educational studies at Talbot School of Theology, Biola University in La Mirada, California. He is also editor of the Christian Education Journal.

The Story of Scripture

An Introduction to Biblical Theology
Volume 1 in the Hobbs College Library

MATTHEW Y. EMERSON

Although the Bible contains sixty-six books, written by forty authors, it is one book written by one author, the Holy Spirit, with one subject: Jesus Christ. How do these books, from Genesis to Revelation, fit together? The Story of Scripture guides the reader through the four major themes of the Bible—Creation, Fall, Redemption, New Creation—showing how each individual book of the Bible tells a cohesive story centered on Jesus.

MATTHEW Y. EMERSON is Associate Professor of Religion and holds the Dickinson Chair of Religion at Oklahoma Baptist University in Shawnee, OK.

Together on God's Mission

How Southern Baptists Cooperate to Fulfill the Great Commission

D. SCOTT HILDRETH

The Southern Baptist Convention has a rich heritage of cooperation. However, in recent years, the SBC Cooperative Program has suffered significant decline in local church participation, leading some to question if we still believe in its mission. Together on God's Mission is a plea to all Southern Baptists to reclaim the power of cooperation. For a new generation, Scott Hildreth tells the story of Southern Baptist cooperation, what will be lost if it dissolves, and reveals how the Southern Baptist Convention is uniquely positioned to take the gospel to the nations.

D. SCOTT HILDRETH is Assistant Professor of Global Studies and Director of the Center for Great Commission Studies at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary in Wake Forest, North Carolina.

Preaching by the Book

Developing and Delivering Text-Driven Sermons
Volume 2 in the Hobbs College Library

Preaching by the Book is a practical handbook offering fundamental guidance for preachers beginning to explore their gifts and fresh insights for seasoned veterans desiring to refine their craft. It is a unique resource that provides a concise overview of the sacred task by considering its theological foundation, textual framework, and technical features.

Readers will be motivated by the survey of doctrinal truths used to define the preaching task. Core convictions that include God revealing himself through the Scriptures, redeeming the lost through his Son, and ordaining preaching as his strategy, serve as a compelling impetus to faithfully proclaim his truth.

Preachers will also be equipped with a practical strategy and essential tools for interpreting Scripture, dissecting a passage, and preparing a message. The process presented offers a systematic approach for designing and developing sermons that proclaim the timeless and theological truths of God's word with conviction, fidelity, and relevance.

Sermon preparation also requires preachers to consider other critical elements of faithful proclamation that many works on preaching overlook. Preaching by the Book provides biblical principles and practical insights for several of these components with individual chapters devoted to sermon introductions, illustrations, and invitations. It also challenges preachers to develop their style as well as their substance by considering their unique personality and gifts, the work of the Spirit, and the particular audience on a given occasion. The tools and tips provided will help preachers clearly and effectively communicate God's word by fully considering their context and congregation.

Preaching is a sacred privilege that God has graciously entrusted to us as servants of Christ and as stewards of the gospel. As such, we must be found faithful (1 Cor 4:1-2). This is a volume devoted to that end.

R. SCOTT PACE is associate professor of preaching and pastoral ministry and associate director for the Center for Preaching and Pastoral Leadership at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Eschatological Discipleship

Leading Christians to Understand Their Historical and Cultural Context

TREVIN WAX

Christian eschatology forms a basic, but necessary component of discipleship. The New Testament authors consistently appealed to eschatology when exhorting Christians to live according to biblical ethics. This book demonstrates the importance of the worldview question “What time is it?” for missiology through the examination of prevailing rival eschatologies in North America today. Additionally, the book demonstrates the need for common evangelical modes of disciple-making to go beyond the adoption of personal spiritual disciplines or engagement in church-related activities to a missionary encounter and confrontation with the world.

TREVIN WAX is the Bible and Reference Publisher for LifeWay Christian Resources. A former missionary to Romania, Trevin hosts a blog at The Gospel Coalition and regularly contributes to The Washington Post, Religion News Service, World, and Christianity Today, which named him one of 33 millennials shaping the next generation of evangelicals. His previous books include Counterfeit Gospels, Clear Winter Nights, This is Our Time, and Gospel-Centered Teaching.

Superheroes Can't Save You

Epic Examples of Historic Heresies

TODD L. MILES

Comic Superheroes embody the hopes of a world that is desperate for a Savior. But those comic creations do not have what it takes to save us from our greatest foes—sin and death.

Jesus Christ is able to save us because he is all that the Bible says that he is, fully human and fully divine. According to the logic of the gospel, Jesus must be everything the Bible says that he is so that he can do everything the Bible says that he does.

Throughout the history of the Church there have been bad ideas, misconceptions, and heretical presentations of Jesus. Each one of these heresies fails to present Jesus as the Bible reveals him.

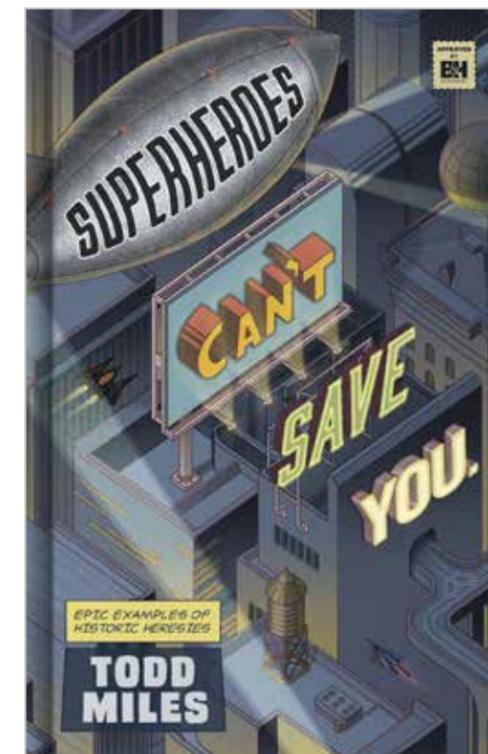

And each one of these heresies is embodied in a different comic superhero.

Using a comic superhero as an illustration of each heresy, Superheroes Can't Save You presents:

- A history of the deficient view of Jesus
- An investigation of contemporary proponents of that heresy
- Warnings on how contemporary Christians can unwittingly fall into such bad thinking of Jesus
- A biblically faithful correction on who Jesus is
- And an explanation of why it is important that we understand who Jesus actually is

Many Christians may not understand the language and vocabulary of theological terms like hypostatic union, person, or essence. But they do know who Superman, Batman, and other superheroes are. By comparing something everybody already knows (who the superheroes are) with what they need to know (who Jesus is), this book makes vitally important Christian truths understandable, applicable, and heartwarming to a wide audience.

TODD L. MILES is Professor of Theology and Director of the Master of Theology Program at Western Seminary in Portland, OR.

From Hermeneutics to Exegesis

The Trajectory of Biblical Interpretation

MATTHEW R. MALCOLM

Interpreting the Bible requires theoretical discernment and practical know-how. Many textbooks focus on the philosophical underpinnings of interpretation, without giving dedicated attention to how these foundations might form the basis of intelligent exegesis of biblical texts from Old and New Testaments. Other textbooks focus on interpretive methods, without helping students to understand why these are philosophically or theologically robust, or how they relate to centuries of reflection on the phenomenon of interpretation. This textbook gives serious attention to both of these areas. Beginning with hermeneutics, the book surveys the history of this discipline, engages with important theological issues, and arrives at a memorable depiction of what is happening when fruitful interpretation takes place. The book then moves to focus on exegesis, helping students to understand the issues at stake in interpreting biblical passages, and providing a straightforward guide to writing an exegesis paper. Academically solid without being overwhelmingly detailed, this is a reliable guide to the important path from hermeneutics to exegesis.

MATTHEW R. MALCOLM is Dean of the Faculty of Liberal Arts at Universitas Pelita, Harapan, Indonesia.

Fuel the Fire

Lessons From the History of Southern Baptist Evangelism

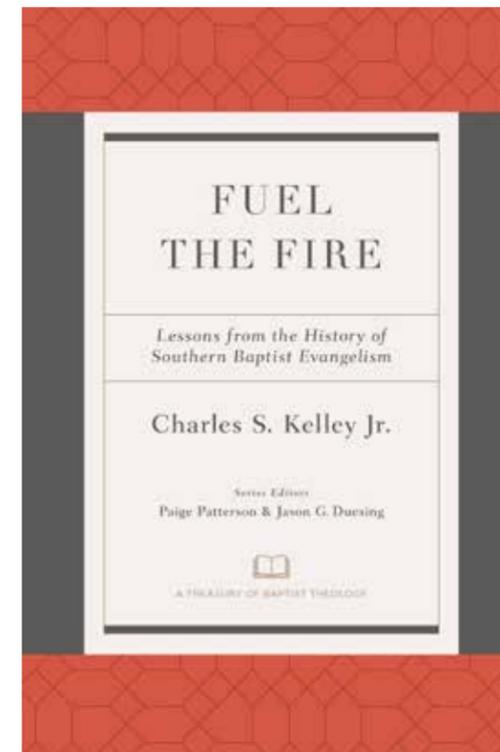

BY CHARLES KELLEY

The evangelistic focus of the Southern Baptist Convention has diminished, creating unprecedented challenges. In Fuel the Fire, Chuck Kelley intends to start a conversation. A denomination accustomed to the inevitability of growth is in the grip of decline. By remembering the evangelistic strategies and core convictions that have strengthened the Southern Baptist Convention since its humble beginnings, and by cultivating the theological focus that enhances modern-day evangelistic engagement, readers will find new urgency in carrying out the work of evangelism. Kelley emphasizes that strategies are important; however, our efforts are in vain apart from a stirring of the Holy Spirit.

Preaching for the Rest of Us

Essentials for Text-Driven Preaching

ROBBY GALLATY AND STEVEN W. SMITH

Preaching for the Rest of Us serves as a starter's guide to text-driven preaching. Driven by the conviction that pastors hold the weighty and honorable responsibility of explaining Scripture to their congregations, Gallaty and Smith present a clear step-by-step process for re-presenting Scripture in compelling text-driven sermons.

This unique type of preaching is the interpretation and communication of a text of Scripture driven by the substance, structure, and spirit of the text. It's not the presentation of a sermon, but the re-presentation of a text of a Scripture. For those who don't feel trained for text-driven preaching, whose preaching template is tired and predictable, or need a preaching restart, Preaching for the Rest of Us provides a compelling reason and method for preaching texts of Scripture.

ROBBY GALLATY is the Senior Pastor of Long Hollow Baptist Church in Hendersonville, TN, and President of Replicate Ministries.

STEVEN W. SMITH is the Senior Pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church in Little Rock, AR, and an Adjunct Faculty member at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Slaves of the Most High God

A Biblical Model of Servant Leadership in the Slave Imagery of Luke-Acts

TIMOTHY COCHRELL

Servant leadership is a widely known and embraced concept. In Slaves of the Most High God, the author seeks to more fully ground the concept in Scripture. The book provides a rigorous exegetical, historical, and theological analysis of the slave metaphor in Luke-Acts. The pattern of Christ's slave leadership in Luke and the practice of slave leadership in the early church in Acts outline a paradigm of a leader who is in authority and under authority, redeemed by God to serve his people. The author proposes a countercultural model of slave leadership outlining seven practical principles drawn from the metaphor of slavery and shaped by personal pastoral experience.

TIM COCHRELL is the Teaching Pastor at Heritage Bible Chapel in Princeton, Massachusetts.

Trinitarian Theology

Theological Models and Doctrinal Application

EDITED BY KEITH S. WHITFIELD

In recent years, debates over Trinitarian doctrine have emerged within evangelicalism. In Trinitarian Theology, contributors Bruce Ware, Malcolm B. Yarnell III, Matthew Y. Emerson, and Luke Stamps discuss theological methods for forming the doctrine of the Trinity, and the implications in applying that doctrine to complementarianism.

Is this discussion important? The subject matter of Trinitarian Theology casts a long shadow over our faith. The Trinity is central to Christianity, for the vibrancy of our churches, and for the clarity of our witness in the world. The heart of Christianity is trinitarian, because central to the salvation story is the relationship between the Father and the Son. In short, this discussion is of great importance.

The God Who Goes Before You

Pastoral Leadership as Christ-Centered Followership

BY MICHAEL S. WILDER & TIMOTHY PAUL JONES

In The God Who Goes before You, Michael S. Wilder and Timothy Paul Jones establish a foundation for Christian leadership that draws not from human assumptions, but from the wisdom of God.

By considering the whole canon of scripture as their supreme and sufficient authority, Wilder and Jones present both pastors and laity with a Christ-centered, kingdom-focused vision of godly leadership.

When it comes to leadership, there is much to be learned from empirical research and from marketplace leaders. However, without Scripture as our authority, flawed views of God's purposes and human nature will skew our understanding of the character and practices of God-called leaders. In this book, Wilder and Jones redefine leadership as Christ-centered followership and present a radically countercultural perspective on leadership practices in the church today

MICHAEL S. WILDER is the associate vice president for doctoral studies and the J. M. Frost Associate Professor of Leadership and Discipleship at The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, KY.

TRAVIS KERNS

The Saints of Zion is a fresh look at the history and theology of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Travis Kerns relies heavily on Latter-day Saint sources for exploration and explanation in order to present their beliefs fairly and accurately. The book concludes with an effective evangelistic methodology for reaching Latter-day Saints with the gospel of the New Testament Jesus.

TRAVIS S KERNS serves with the North American Mission Board as a SEND City missionary in Salt Lake City, Utah. He has been studying Mormonism since 1996 and all of his academic work and study focused on Latter-day Saint history, theology, and philosophy.

Stand Firm

Apologetics and the Brilliance of the Gospel

BY PAUL M. GOULD, TRAVIS DICKINSON, AND R. KEITH LOFTIN

In an age of skepticism and disenchantment, people long for something that satisfies our mind's search for truth and our heart's desire for beauty and meaning. Stand Firm: Apologetics and the Brilliance of the Gospel argues that the gospel satisfies both of these needs. It is true and rational, but it is also inherently attractive and provides meaning and purpose. In short, the gospel is brilliant. It is brilliant, in one sense, because of the broad variety of evidences for its truth. But it is also brilliant given its beauty, goodness, and the meaningful life it offers. The book provides up to date responses to questions about the existence of God, the reliability of the Bible, Jesus and the resurrection, and the problem of evil. It also treats unique topics such as understanding truth, knowledge and faith, the claims of alternate faiths, religious disagreement, etc. Each chapter attempts to connect these considerations with the gospel so that we may stand firm in our faith.

PAUL M. GOULD (PhD, Purdue University) teaches philosophy and apologetics at Oklahoma Baptist University and is the founder and president of the Two Tasks Institute.

TRAVIS DICKINSON is associate professor of philosophy and Christian apologetics at Scarborough College and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

R. KEITH LOFTIN is associate professor of philosophy and humanities and associate dean, Scarborough College at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Islam and North America

Loving our Muslim Neighbors

BY MICAH FRIES AND KEITH WHITFIELD

Islam and North America seeks to accomplish three purposes. First, the book will equip North American Christians to think about Islam theologically and missionally. It will answer some of the big theological and socio-political questions surrounding the growth of Islam in the West. These include: Do we worship the same God? Should Christians defend the rights of Muslims to worship in North America? What does the Quran say about violence? And Do Muslims aspire for Sharia law to overtake our political systems?

Secondly, the book equips Christians to engage their Muslim neighbor with hospitality and without fear. Finally, the book encourages North American Christians to love Muslims with the love of Christ. These chapters help Christians discover places of common ground between themselves and Muslims, helping us identify challenges Muslims face when they immigrate to North America, approach our multi-faith context missionally, and prepare to have cross-cultural gospel conversations.

MICAH FRIES is senior pastor of Brainerd Baptist Church in Chattanooga, Tennessee.

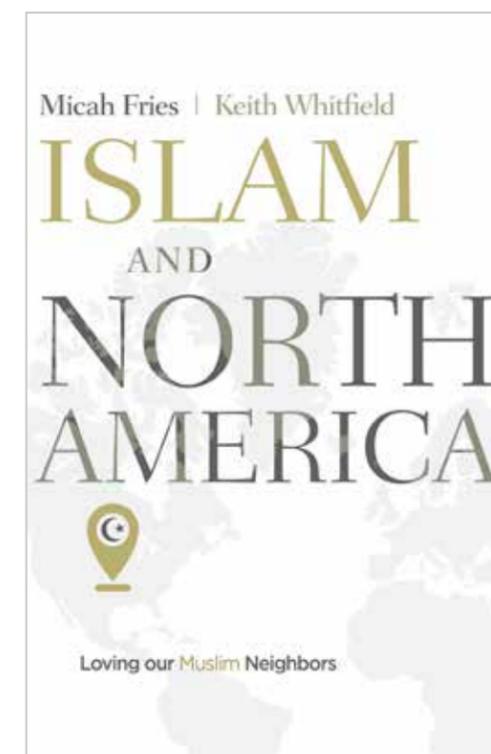

KEITH WHITFIELD is assistant professor of theology, dean of graduate studies, and vice president for academic administration at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary in Wake Forest, North Carolina.

The Atonement

A Biblical, Theological, and Historical Study of the Cross of Christ

DAVID L. ALLEN

The atonement of Christ is the heart of Christianity. Christians are not only a people of the Book, but a people of the cross. The Atonement considers the key terms and concepts of the atonement used in Scripture, the issues associated with the atonement, the development of atonement theories throughout church history, and an assessment of contemporary theologies of the atonement. Each of these sections seek to understand what Christ accomplished by his death on the cross.

Student Ministry By the Book

Biblical Foundations for Student Ministry

BY R. SCOTT PACE AND ED NEWTON

The field of student ministry is often driven by fads and trends as leaders attempt to reach students by chasing the ever-changing tides of teenage culture. This short-sighted approach not only produces superficial and misguided disciples, it leaves leaders and parents drained and disappointed by the lack of authentic spiritual transformation despite their heartfelt and painstaking efforts. Student Ministry by the Book addresses these and other common missteps by providing a concise biblical philosophy and practical guide for student ministry. By establishing a spiritual perspective of a student's identity and exploring the Scriptural precedent for student ministry, the authors refute the culture's view of teenagers that often sabotages the church's approach to discipling them. This book also provides leaders and parents with an accessible resource full of useful insights to reach the families of teens, build relationships with students, integrate them within the church, and recruit leaders as effective partners in ministry. It also offers helpful direction in leading students in the process of spiritual formation and grounding them in the foundational truths of the faith.

ED NEWTON is the lead pastor of Community Bible Church, in San Antonio, TX.

R. SCOTT PACE is associate professor of preaching and pastoral ministry and associate director for the Center for Preaching and Pastoral Leadership at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary. He served as Hughes Chair and professor of Christian Ministry at Oklahoma Baptist University from 2009-2018.

American History Volume 1

1492-1877

BY THOMAS S. KIDD

American History volume 1 surveys the broad sweep of American history from the first Native American societies to the end of the Reconstruction period, following the Civil War. Drawing on a deep range of research and years of classroom teaching experience, Thomas S. Kidd offers students an engaging overview of the first half of American history. The volume features illuminating stories of people from well-known presidents and generals, to lesser-known men and women who struggled under slavery and other forms of oppression to make their place in American life. The role of Christianity in America is central in this book. Americans' faith sometimes inspired awakenings and the search for an equitable society, but at other times it justified violence and inequality. Students will come away from American History volume 1 better prepared to grapple with the challenges presented by the history of America's founding, the problem of slavery, and our nation's political tradition.

THOMAS S. KIDD is the associate director of the Institute for Studies of Religion, and distinguished professor of history at Baylor University.

American History Volume 2

1877-Present

BY THOMAS S. KIDD

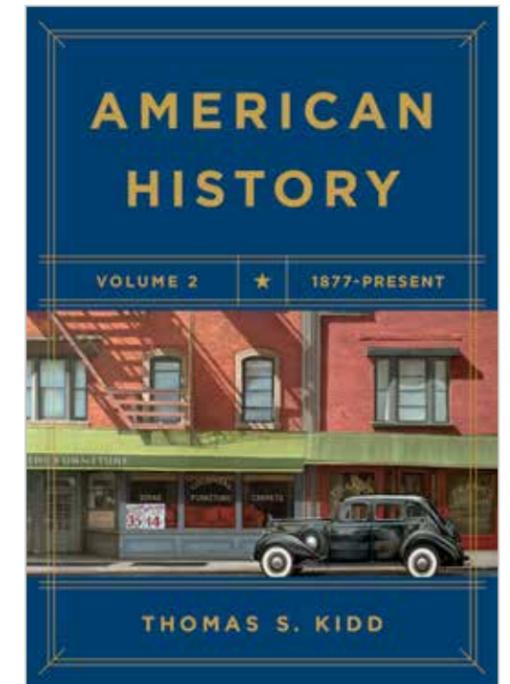

American History volume 2 gives a wide overview of America's history from the end of the Civil War era, to the political and cultural struggles of contemporary times. Thomas S. Kidd employs lessons learned from his own scholarly expertise and history classes to weave together a compelling narrative of the defeats and triumphs that have defined the American national experience. Unlike many textbooks of modern American history, religion and faith remain central aspects of the book's coverage, through present-day America. It gives detailed treatment of episodes such as America's military conflicts, the Civil Rights movement, and the culture wars of the past half-century. Professor Kidd also considers the development of America's obsession with entertainment, from the rise of the first movies, to the social media age. American History volume 2 will help students wrestle with the political and cultural changes that have dramatically transformed contemporary American life.

THOMAS S. KIDD is the associate director of the Institute for Studies of Religion, and distinguished professor of history at Baylor University.

Historical Reliability of the New Testament

Countering the Challenges to Evangelical Christian Beliefs

CRAIG L. BLOMBERG

Questions about the reliability of the New Testament come from many directions today. This volume addresses all of the most common ones including the transmission of the text, the choice of books for the canon, the formation of the Gospels, the supposed contradictions among parallels, a comparison of Jesus and Paul and another of Acts and Paul, proposals of pseudonymity for various letters, and even the value of the book of Revelation. This book is a fully stocked toolbox for anyone interested in whether we can still trust the New Testament in the twenty-first century.

Superheroes Can't Save You

Epic Examples of Historic Heresies

TODD L. MILES

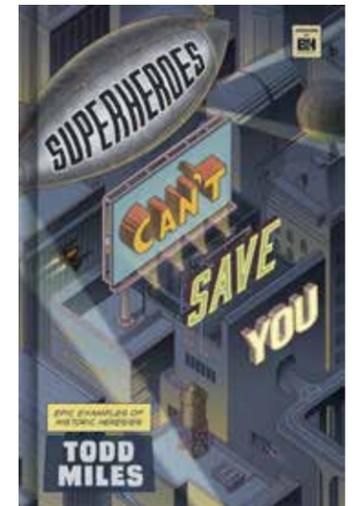

Using a comic superhero as an illustration of each heresy, Superheroes Can't Save You presents:

- A history of the deficient view of Jesus
- An investigation of contemporary proponents of that heresy
- Warnings on how contemporary Christians can unwittingly fall into such bad thinking of Jesus
- A biblically faithful correction on who Jesus is
- And an explanation of why it is important that we understand who Jesus actually is.

Many Christians may not understand the language and vocabulary of theological terms like hypostatic union, person, or essence. But they do know who Superman, Batman, and other superheroes are. By comparing something everybody already knows (who the superheroes are) with what they need to know (who Jesus is), this book makes vitally important Christian truths understandable, applicable, and heartwarming to a wide audience.

TODD L. MILES is Professor of Theology and Director of the Master of Theology Program at Western Seminary in Portland, Oregon.

R. SCOTT PACE holds the Reverend A. E. and Dora Johnson Hughes Chair of Christian Ministry at Oklahoma Baptist University in Shawnee, Oklahoma.

God the Trinity

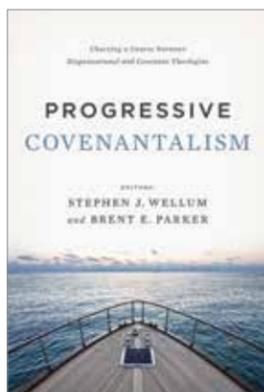

Biblical Portraits

MALCOLM B. YARNELL III

Is the Trinity biblical? Must we affirm God as three persons in one being? Despite a renewed interest in the Trinity in recent years, many Christians, including most evangelicals, relegate the Son of God to creaturely status or repudiate the personhood of the Holy Spirit. In addition, many scholars affirm the Trinity is derived from but not directly revealed in Scripture, with some arguing it is thus unnecessary.

Removing the Stain of Racism from the Southern Baptist Convention

Diverse African American and White Perspectives

EDITED BY JARVIS J. WILLIAMS AND KEVIN M. JONES

The Southern Baptist Convention has a historical stain. The SBC once affirmed slavery and openly opposed and condemned abolitionists. Even though the convention repented of this sin publicly, a profound divide between the white majority and the black and brown minority still exists for many Churches. Removing the Stain of Racism from the Southern Baptist Convention is a powerful and practical call to sacrifice, humility, and perseverance--along with a relentless commitment to Christian unity-- for the sake of the gospel and our brothers and sisters in Christ.

The Bible Expositor's Handbook

New Testament

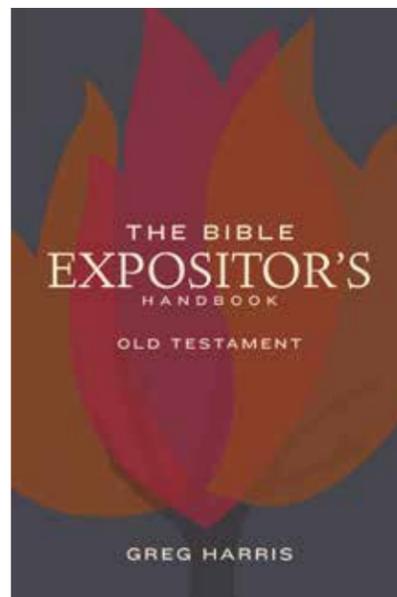

GREG HARRIS

Using the Bible as the original textbook, Greg Harris shows readers the continuity and cohesiveness of God's Word. The Bible Expositor's Handbook, New Testament picks up where the Old Testament edition ended. Rather than jumping into Matthew, where our New Testament begins, Harris instead looks to Luke 24 where Jesus taught through every book of the Old Testament, showing truths that were either already fulfilled by him or would be in the future. This unique approach enables the reader to have a greater confidence in what God's Word teaches, and a greater love and appreciation for our Lord Jesus Christ.

GREG HARRIS is Department Head and Professor of Bible Exposition at The Master's Seminary in Sun Valley, CA.

Restoring Sound Theology and Relevance to African American Preaching

AARON E. LAVENDER

Enduring Truth argues that faithfulness to Scripture is the solution to a "crisis" among African American preaching. Counseling the Hard Cases

True Stories Illustrating the Sufficiency of God's Resources in Scripture
EDITED BY STUART SCOTT AND HEATH LAMBERT

Biblical counselors have worked for decades to demonstrate that God's resources in Scripture are sufficient to help people with their counseling related problems. In Counseling the Hard Cases, editors Stuart Scott and Heath Lambert use the true stories of real patients to show how the truths of God's Word can be released to bring help, hope, and healing into the lives of those who struggle with difficult psychiatric diagnoses.

STUART SCOTT is Associate Professor of Biblical Counseling at The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky.

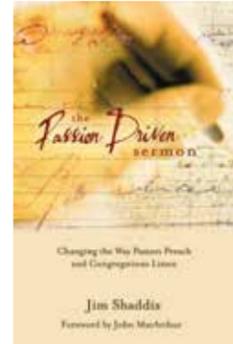

HEATH LAMBERT is Associate Professor of Biblical Counseling at The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary and its undergraduate institution, Boyce College.

Eschatological Discipleship

Leading Christians to Understand Their Historical and Cultural Context
TREVIN WAX

Discipleship is eschatological in nature because the church that makes and receives disciples is eschatological in nature. Often eschatology is thought to refer only to "last things" doctrines. However, eschatology in its broader sense encompasses the Christian view of time and the future of the world, informing both one's evangelism and ecclesiology. Failing to relate the eschatological dimension to discipleship leaves one with an incomplete worldview, imbalanced discipleship, and eventually, a tragic inability to model the Christian way of life. By answering questions like "What time is it?" and "Where is history going?" Trevin Wax helps Christians view the past, present, and future biblically, and shapes their understanding of following Jesus.

Commentary on Romans

Biblical Theology for Christian Proclamation

The Biblical Theology for Christian Proclamation commentary series explores the theology of the Bible in considerable depth, spanning both Testaments. General Editors include T. Desmond Alexander, Andreas J. Kostenberger, and Thomas R. Schreiner with contributing authors from a variety of backgrounds and perspectives, though all affirm the inerrancy and inspiration of Scripture. All volumes provide a discussion of introductory matters, including the book's historical setting and the literary structure. Also included is an exegetical treatment of all the relevant passages in succinct commentary-style format. The major contribution of each volume, however, is a thorough discussion of the most important themes of the biblical book in relation to the canon as a whole. What distinguishes this series is its orientation toward Christian proclamation. Within its pages, the authors seek to relate biblical theology to our every day lives and to the life of the church. The desire behind this commentary series is to equip those in Christian ministry who are called by God to preach and teach the precious truths of Scripture to their congregations.

FEATURES

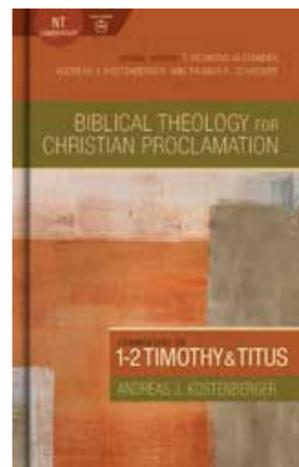

- Series brings a unique approach to market offering the combination of both exegetical commentary and a comprehensive biblical theology application
- Provides a discussion of introductory matters—including the historical setting and the literary structure of a given book of Scripture, an exegetical treatment of all the relevant passages in succinct commentary-style format, as well as a thorough discussion of the most important themes of the biblical book in relation to the canon as a whole

Exalting Jesus in 2 Peter, Jude

Christ-Centered Exposition Commentary

BY JIM SHADDIX AND DANIEL L. AKIN

Exalting Jesus in 2 Peter and Jude is part of the Christ-Centered Exposition Commentary series. Edited by David Platt, Daniel L. Akin, and Tony Merida, this new commentary series, projected to be 48 volumes, takes a Christ-centered approach to expositing each book of the Bible. Rather than a verse-by-verse approach, the authors have crafted chapters that explain and apply key passages in their assigned Bible books.

Readers will learn to see Christ in all aspects of Scripture, and they will be encouraged by the devotional nature of each exposition presented as sermons and divided into chapters that conclude with a "Reflect & Discuss" section, making this series ideal for small group study, personal devotion, and even sermon preparation. It's not academic but rather presents an easy reading, practical, and friendly commentary.
