Woven

Understanding the Bible as One Seamless Story
ANGIE SMITH

Does the Bible feel confusing and complicated to you? Perhaps some of it feels familiar, but overall, does it feel impossible to navigate? Maybe you recognize the stories, but you just don't know how they all fit together.

Yet they do fit together.

In her unique and remarkably readable way, Angie Smith—bestselling author of What Women Fear, Mended, I Will Carry You, and Seamless—helps you tie together all the loose, disconnected threads you find in the Bible, weaving them into a beautifully crafted story line. After reading Woven, when it comes to reading Scripture, you'll go:

- from confused to confident
- from lost to knowledgeable
- and ultimately, from God's heart to yours

Because once you see the big picture, you'll see it on every page. Every time.

- Women who follow She Reads Truth, IF:Gathering, and Proverbs 31 and who have attended the Come to the Table tour
- Women who have completed Angie Smith's Seamless Bible study or who have read Angie's previous titles (more than 410K sales total)
- Women who read the authors of LifeWay Women studies

The Courage to Stand

Facing Your Fear Without Losing Your Soul

RUSSELL MOORE

The most significant challenge facing Christians isn't a crisis of clarity, but a crisis of courage. We know what to do; we just don't have the guts to do it.

But what is courage? Is it bravery? Bravado? A total lack of fear? "It is curious," wrote Mark Twain. "Curious that physical courage should be so common in the world, and moral courage so rare." This moral courage—not being free of fear, but being willing and able to do the right thing even when you are afraid—is the quality we most lack, and the quality we most desperately need.

In The Courage to Stand, bestselling and award-winning author Russell Moore (Onward; The Storm-Tossed Family) inspires courage in readers by exposing its absence and pointing the way to true courage—the way that is the person and presence of Jesus Christ.

Rethink Your Self

The Power of Looking Up Before Looking In TREVIN WAX

Follow your heart. Live your truth. You are enough.

We take these slogans for granted, but what if this path to personal happiness leads to a dead-end? In Rethink Your Self, Trevin Wax encourages you to rethink some of our society's most common assumptions about identity and the road to happiness.

Most people define their identity and purpose by first looking in (to their desires), then looking around (to express their uniqueness), and finally—maybe—looking up (to add a spiritual dimension to life). Rethink Your Self proposes a counter-intuitive approach: looking up before looking in.

It's only when we look up to learn who we were created to be that we discover our true purpose and become our truest selves.

marketing highlights

- In Rethink Your Self, Trevin Wax helps readers discover their truest identity and purpose by looking up (to God) before looking in (to self)
- Trevin writes regularly with The Gospel Coalition and he has blogged multiple times about the topic of this book, of which have been read by more than 75,000 people
- Social media influence on a daily basis through Twitter (49K+ followers) and Facebook (12K+ likes)
- Anticipated endorsements and supporters of the book include Tim Keller, Russell Moore, Jen Wilkin, Nancy Guthrie, Matt Chandler, and more
- 2018 Cigna survey: nearly half of Americans always or sometimes feel alone (46 percent) or left out (47 percent), proving that loneliness is an epidemic
- Reported scientific support for subject matter in mainstream media outlets; for example, from Psychology Today: "From a mental health perspective, the rising individualism reported in the journal Psychological Science is disturbing. The amassed mental health research indicates that social support, social ties and community integration acts to buffer mental illness and improve mental health. Contrariwise, intense individualism can lead to more isolation, more loneliness and more alienation."

TREVIN WAX is senior vice president of Theology and Communications at LifeWay Christian Resources and a visiting professor at Wheaton College. A former missionary to Romania, Trevin hosts a blog at The Gospel Coalition and regularly contributes to The Washington Post, Religion News Service, World, and Christianity Today, which named him one of thirty-three millennials shaping the next generation of evangelicals. As former director of Bible Publishing at LifeWay, he led the launch of the Christian Standard Bible (CSB) and served as general editor of the CSB Worldview Study Bible. Currently he is the general editor of The Gospel Project, and an author of many books, including This Is Our Time, Eschatological Discipleship, Gospel Centered Teaching, and Rethink Your Self. He and his wife Corina have three children and live outside of Nashville, Tennessee.

What Are You Going to Do with Your Life?

J.D. GREEAR

God has a plan to make your life count for eternity. Stop wasting it. You want your life to matter. To mean something. But if you're like most people, you probably don't have a compelling answer to the question, "What are you going to do with your life?"

In this book, J.D. Greear considers Jesus' radical call to give your life away to the greatest cause of all. To view your life from the perspective of eternity. To start making decisions now that you'll be glad you made then.

It's time to put your "yes" on the table and let God put it on the map.

marketing highlights

- J.D. Greear issues a rallying cry for young Christians to totally submit their lives to Christ—to put their "yes" on the table and let God put it on the map
- Accessible small format to be appreciated by the target market and is a natural complement to his bestselling book, Stop Asking Jesus Into Your Heart
- He is passionate about and has experience in writing to younger audiences (Stop Asking Jesus Into Your Heart Teen Edition); he started as and still is an evangelist

Chasing Love

Sex, Love, and Relationships in a Confused Culture
SEAN MCDOWELL

The music we listen to, the movies we watch—they're all telling us to keep chasing love, and that we'll finally be happy when we find it.

But is love really all we need?

The love that the world tells us to pursue is all about self, and about following your heart's desires. But what is the Christian worldview on love? When we follow Jesus, we realize that He invites us to reorient the focus of our lives, so instead of chasing love primarily for our own happiness, we are first and foremost to give love—to God and to others.

In Chasing Love, Dr. Sean McDowell will invite readers into Jesus' radical, upside-down approach to love, and in doing so, he'll answer some of the toughest questions we're asking about love today:

- How does Jesus speak to singleness?
- What does the gospel say about LGBTQ issues?
- Can sexual sin truly be forgiven?
- What if I'm not happy in my marriage?

audience

- Christians looking to be better equipped to understand sexuality in a confusing culture
- Younger Christians who are not married yet but want to better prepare themselves for understanding marriage
- Parents, youth ministry staff, and other church leaders
- Previous buyers of Dr. Sean McDowell's apologetics books and Bible (CSB Apologetics Study Bible for Students has sold more than 30K copies)

marketing highlights

- In a culture obsessed with—but confused about—romantic love, Dr. Sean McDowell helps readers reorient their understanding of love in light of the teachings of Jesus
- Sean is a tremendous communicator and gets a phenomenal response from his short teaching videos for young Christians
- Josh McDowell is Sean McDowell's father and a leader in apologetics (77K+ followers on Twitter)
- Social media influence on a daily basis through Twitter (69K+ followers), Facebook (12K+ likes), and Instagram (6K+ followers)

SEAN MCDOWELL is a gifted communicator with a passion for equipping the church, and in particular young people, to make the case for the Christian faith. In addition to his role as associate professor in the Christian Apologetics program at Talbot School of Theology, Biola University, Sean travels throughout the United States and abroad, speaking at camps, churches, schools, universities, and conferences. Sean is the cohost for the Think Biblically podcast, which is one of the most popular podcasts on faith and cultural engagement. He has written, cowritten, or edited more than twenty books and has a leading apologetics blogs at seanmcdowell.org. In April 2000, Sean married his high school sweetheart, Stephanie. They have three children and live in San Juan Capistrano, California.

Shadow Christians

Making an Impact When No One Knows Your Name
JEFF IORG

Are you a shadow Christian?

Shadow Christians are people who work in the margins, in the shadows created by the spotlight shining on others. We often think they—we—are insignificant. But here’s the good news: God chooses and uses shadow Christians.

There are some names in the Bible that everyone knows: Adam and Eve, Noah, Moses, Mary, Peter, Paul. But the Bible is also full of stories with unnamed characters. People who made a difference not in the spotlight, but in the shadows.

If you’re a shadow Christian, you matter to God, and He wants to use you to make a difference.

audience

- Leaders facing difficulty and change in their ministries and looking for a resource
- Readers inspired by the story of transition of Gateway Seminary, led by Jeff Iorg
- Readers of Jeff Iorg’s other books like Ministry in a New Marriage Culture or Leading Major Change in Your Ministry

marketing highlights

- Jeff Iorg reminds everyday Christians—those who live outside of the spotlight—that they matter to God and encourages them to make a difference with their lives
- Iorg is a leadership author, and his past books have been leadership books, but this one is a Christian living book
- Hosts the Gateway Seminary Lead On podcast; will probably have a miniseries on his podcast where the episodes focus just on the book
- Will be creating sermon outlines and tools for pastors to use leading groups through the content

JEFF IORG is president of Gateway Seminary, a learning network with five campuses and a robust distance learning program. He speaks frequently on leadership and pastoral ministry issues in conferences and classroom settings. Iorg maintains a leadership website at www.jeffiorg.com, is featured on the Lead On podcast, and has written or edited several other books. He and his wife, Ann, live in Ontario, California.

Echo Island

JARED C. WILSON

In this YA suspense-thriller, four longtime friends return to their home from a weekend trip only to discover something terrifying has happened—everyone has disappeared. The island is empty.

While considering multiple theories, the four teenage boys scour the island for clues, a task which proves difficult since nothing electronic works. As they embark on their quest, several unexplained incidents suggest that Echo Island is not entirely deserted after all. Soon, a kind British man named Jack arrives. He reveals some of the mystery, which causes the story to take a startling turn, upending everything the characters have always believed about themselves, their home, and reality itself.

Echo Island is a fast-paced YA mystery with profound theological implications. As the boys discover the truth about what happened to Echo Island, they are forced to struggle with difficult doctrines such as predestination and free will. Since many teenage readers wrestle with trusting a God they cannot fully understand, Echo Island is a relevant and relatable tale—one that will keep readers turning the pages, eager to both find answers to the mystery and learn more about God’s truth in the process.

This is his second novel. Wilson lives outside Kansas City, Missouri, with his wife and teenage daughters.

“This means something, he thought. But he had the overwhelming feeling that the strangeness was outrunning him. The deeper he went, the more disorienting it became. He had never experienced this before. The mystery was getting bigger, not smaller.”

GENESIS 24

CREATED WITH CARE

God made man and woman. We're the high-light of His creation. Although everything else was good, God looked at us and said we were "very good." We're the only part of creation made in God's image. Look in the mirror. You're awesome, right?

From your 206 bones to your 650 muscles to your 60,000 miles of blood vessels, your body is a masterpiece. A masterpiece that only could have been made by a loving Creator. His handwork can be seen down to the cellular level. You're made of trillions of cells. Every minute 300 million of your cells die and are re-placed with new cells. Each cell has a job to do to keep you functioning your best. But how do your cells know what to do? After all, there are more than two hundred different kinds of cells. That's where DNA comes in. DNA is a special molecule filled with information. A scientist at Harvard figured out that seven hundred tera-bytes of data could be stored in one gram of DNA. That's the same amount of information that would fit on fourteen thousand 50-giga-byte Blu-ray discs! DNA is the genetic material that determines what you look like and how your body works. Your DNA is different from everyone else's on the planet. If you stretched out your entire DNA, it would go 10 billion miles. That's to Pluto and back!

The complexity and cleverness of DNA points to a loving Creator. Scientists say the chances of DNA forming by natural processes are less than 1 in 10 to the 40,000th power. That's a number that starts with a 1 and has 40,000 zeroes behind it. There's a better chance of an explosion at a microchip factory creating a computer than DNA forming through natural processes. In other words, it could never happen.

Augustine, an early church leader (see the "Defenders of the Faith" feature in Romans 13), wrote a lot about God's creation. He realized that sometimes we look at all the wonderful things around us and forget how our bodies reflect God's creativity. "Men go abroad to wonder at the height of mountains, at the huge waves of the sea, at the long courses of rivers, at the vast compass of the ocean, at the circular motion of the stars," Augustine wrote, "and they pass by themselves without wondering." Don't pass by yourself. Stop and marvel . . . because you're a masterpiece.

second river is Gihon, which flows through the entire land of Cush. ¹⁴The name of the third river is Tigris, which runs east of Assyria. And the fourth river is the Euphrates. ¹⁵The LORD God took the man and placed him in the garden of Eden to work it and watch over it. ¹⁶And the LORD God commanded the man, "You are free to eat from any tree of the garden. ¹⁷but you must not eat from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, for on the day you eat from it, you will certainly die." ¹⁸Then the LORD God said, "It is not good for the man to be alone. I will make a helper corresponding to him." ¹⁹The LORD God formed out of the ground every wild animal and every bird of the sky, and brought each to the man to see what he would call it. And whatever the man called a living creature, that was its name. ²⁰The man gave names to all the livestock, to the birds of the sky, and to every wild animal; but for the man* no helper was found corresponding to him. ²¹So the LORD God caused a deep sleep to come over the man, and he slept. God took one of his ribs and closed the flesh at that place. ²²Then the LORD God made the rib he had taken from the man into a woman and brought her to the man. ²³And the man said:

DIGGING INTO THE WORD

THE HIDDEN HITTITES

Maybe you've heard people call the Bible a "book of stories." More than two hundred years ago, doubters started challenging the facts in the Bible because of a lack of archaeological evidence. In Latin, this is called argumentum ex silentio, "an argument from silence." In other words, because of an absence of historical documents or statements, something is believed to be untrue.

One of the more disputed details in the Bible was the existence of the Hittite people. The Bible clearly states that the Hittites existed. God promised the land of the Hittites to Joshua. Solomon sold chariots to the Hittites and married Hittite women. Hittites are mentioned in Joshua, here in Judges 1:26, 2 Samuel, 1 and 2 Kings; and 2 Chronicles.

For thousands of years, evidence of the Hittites seemed nonexistent. Then in 1834, French architect and archaeologist Charles Texier discovered an ancient site near the modern-day city of Ankara, Turkey. French and German archaeologists dug into the city for seventy-two years before locating records that included the name of the city Hattusa (sometimes spelled Hattushaj)—the ancient capital of the Hittite Empire! Suddenly in 1906, the "silent" Hittites of the Bible were found. Thanks to many tireless, watchful archaeologists—both Christian and non-Christian—the "argument from silence" has been quieted. The Bible isn't a "book of stories." It has been proven time and again to be an accurate book of facts.

among the Canaanites who were living in the land, because they failed to drive them out. ¹³Naphthali did not drive out the residents of Beth-shemesh or the residents of Beth-anath. They lived among the Canaanites who were living in the land, but the residents of Beth-shemesh and Beth-anath served as their forced labor. ¹⁴The Amorites forced the Danites into the hill country and did not allow them to go down into the valley. ¹⁵The Amorites were determined to stay in* Har-heres, Ajlajon, and Shaalhim. When the house of Joseph got the upper hand,¹⁶ the Amorites* were made to serve as forced labor. ¹⁸The territory of the Amorites extended from the Scorpions' Ascent, that is from Sela upward.

PATTERN OF SIN AND JUDGMENT

2 The angel of the LORD went up from Gilgal to Bochim and said, "I brought you out of Egypt and led you into the land I had promised to your fathers. I also said: I will never break my covenant with you. ²You are not to make a covenant with the inhabitants of this land. You are to tear down their altars. But you have not obeyed me. What is this you have done? ³Therefore, I now say: I will not drive out these people before you.

INTRODUCTION

and it's up to the reader to grasp why. The arrows, and the corresponding question that accompanies each, are a tool that any reader can use to examine, understand, and apply the treasure of God's Word.

ARROW 1—WHAT DOES THE PASSAGE SAY?

The first step is to summarize the passage in your own words. Basically, you want to restate the main point of the section of Scripture in a simple sentence or two. Don't worry about interpreting what the passage means at this point. Simply strive to understand the words the author uses, and summarize the big idea in a way that captures the essence of what's being said.

ARROW 2—WHAT DID THE PASSAGE MEAN TO ITS ORIGINAL AUDIENCE?

Long before readers try to apply the Bible to their lives, time should be spent investigating what the passage meant to those who experienced the stories of the Bible firsthand. It's easy to feel bogged down by this question and think that you must be an expert on the people and places of the Bible to answer it, but that's not often the case. It might be helpful to read the introduction to the book, consult a solid commentary, or take a look at some study notes in your Bible, but you can often answer this question just by putting yourself in the scene and asking what you'd imagine those in the story would have thought or felt.

ARROW 3—WHAT DOES THE PASSAGE TELL US ABOUT GOD?

Every story in the Bible is about God. This third arrow is designed to make Him the focus, protecting the reader from becoming the main character of the Bible. Though the Bible certainly addresses human problems, needs, and struggles, it is first and foremost the story of God's character and of His plan to save sinners and fix the world. Sinful people are the recipients of this good work. A proper understanding of God provides the motivation and power to obey anything we might read in the Bible. There will be times when the Bible will come right out and tell you something about God, such as His compassion, grace, faithfulness, or love. Other times the answer to this question will require you to reflect on the story and come to your own conclusion. Because God exists in three persons these observations may be about God the Father, or God the Son, or God the Holy Spirit. Each truth you discover will build a robust understanding of who the God of the Bible really is.

ARROW 4—WHAT DOES THE PASSAGE TELL US ABOUT MAN?

The fourth question shifts the focus to sinful people. This question is probably the easiest for a reader of the Bible to answer because it's personal. The stories of the Bible depict people who sin and need Jesus just like everyone who reads the Bible today. We read stories of people who make bad decisions, question God's love, and struggle to obey Him consistently. Others model a heart that loves God, striving to follow Him, repent of sin, and pursue the life He designed for them. God's story demonstrates His work to save all people from their sin.

ARROW 5—WHAT DOES THIS PASSAGE DEMAND OF ME?

The final three arrows are action oriented, asking readers to apply the truth seen in arrows 1–4. This progression is intentional. All application should be based on who God is and what He has done. There will be times when the Bible comes right out to say what form obedience should take: love others, guard your heart, serve the poor, pray, share the good news, and so on. Other times, the reader might need to reflect on the passage in a bit more detail to see the application clearly. This is why the first four arrows are so important; they help make the application clear even when the Bible doesn't exactly say how we should obey each passage. It's also important to remember that sometimes the application will be something the reader does, while other times the application might be toward what the reader thinks or feels. For example, a passage might challenge the reader to trust God for their needs and not worry about tomorrow. This may not seem like an action, but these steps of obedience are just as important as other actions that might be easier to see externally.

ARROW 6—HOW DOES THIS PASSAGE CHANGE THE WAY I RELATE TO PEOPLE?

Arrow six requires the reader to apply the passage to the various relationships in their lives. Throughout the Bible, a close connection is demonstrated between love for God and love for those who are made in His image. Thought should be given to how each type of love is shown after reading and understanding any biblical text. This love might be demonstrated by seeking forgiveness, speaking a word of encouragement, walking with someone through pain, sharing the gospel with someone far from God, or serving someone in their need. These tangible actions of love for others are evidence of a love for God.

ARROW 7—WHAT DOES THIS PASSAGE PROMPT ME TO PRAY?

The final arrow challenges the reader to talk to God about what they've read. Prayer should be a response to God for the ways that He has spoken to us through His Word. There are times when the Bible

GENESIS 1:26-28

What does this passage say?

God completes His work of creation by designing a man and woman who reflect His image.

What did this passage mean to its original audience?

Adam and Eve, and all those who heard or read about God's creation after them, know the value and mission of men and women. Because the hand of God fashioned and intimately formed them, Adam and Eve grasp their worth in God's eyes. Since they were given God's image and sent to reflect that image in the world, they would sense a God-given purpose for their lives. Knowing their value and their involvement in God's mission would produce rightful worship to God.

What does this passage tell us about God?

God wants to be known and worshiped. He created men and women to share in a relationship with Him and to show off His greatness throughout all the world. He did not have to create, but He chose to design people and task them with representing Him to the world. Creation would never have happened were it not for God's desire to reveal Himself and His glory.

What does this passage tell us about man?

Men and women alike are created in the image of God. Though they may reflect His image differently, both men and women are God's creations and have meaningful roles to play in His mission.

What does this passage demand of me?

I do not have to question whether or not I matter to God or live in a constant panic over the perceptions of other people. As a child of God, I have worth and value because He made me and He loves me. Nothing anyone else says about me changes the fact that I matter to God and that He continually pursues me with His love. He gives purpose and meaning to my life as I reflect Him to the world.

How does this passage change the way I relate to people?

I should treat other people with love and respect because all people are created in the image of God. Even though people may look, act, or talk differently than I do, they are no less valuable to God. He created all people to reflect His image, and I should love everyone.

How does this passage prompt me to pray to God?

I praise God for His power. He spoke all things into creation, including every person who has ever lived. I should thank Him for creating me and giving me the privilege of reflecting His image through my life. I should ask God to help me love others who are made in His image and to live a life that shows others the greatness of God.

Truthfilled

The Practice of Preaching to Yourself Through Every Season
RUTH CHOU SIMONS

Despite what our culture might have you believe, truth is not relative. Every day we are called to discern what to believe, whom to listen to, and what information to trust. Even the thoughts that form in our own minds about ourselves, our circumstances, and our God must be tested. How do we know what is true? How do we believe what’s right?

In Ephesians 3:19, Paul tells believers how to be filled and what to be filled with: “And to know the love of Christ that surpasses knowledge, that you may be filled with all the fullness of God.”

Join Ruth Chou Simons in this 7-session study as she walks through the Book of Colossians to demonstrate a pattern of being filled up with the truth of God’s Word. Learn how to preach truth to your own heart, and how doing so can help shape your thought patterns, identity, and actions. There’s no shortage of self-help, easy fixes, and worldly advice addressing all the concerns on your heart, but only the truth of God’s Word was meant to fill you up and satisfy you fully.

- 6 weeks of personal study to complete between the 7 group meetings

With Us in the Wilderness

A Study of the Book of Numbers
LAUREN CHANDLER

The Book of Numbers is a story of identity, wilderness, and God. Numbers continues the historical narrative begun in Exodus, the story of God’s people newly freed from Egypt’s shackles and wandering toward the promised land. Even when they rebelled—and this book tells of many rebellions—God’s love and promises remained. It’s in that love and those promises the children of Israel found their identity and where we must find ours today. (7 sessions)

Featuring the CHRISTIAN STANDARD BIBLE

Accurate. Readable. Shareable. The Christian Standard Bible is a translation for everyone—a translation you can take to seminary and read to your kids. A translation that new believers can understand and that every believer can return to for lifelong discipleship.

The CSB captures the Bible’s original meaning without sacrificing clarity. It’s an optimal blend of accuracy and readability—in the many places throughout Scripture where a word-for-word rendering is clearly understandable, a literal translation is used. When a word-for-word rendering might obscure the meaning for a modern audience, a more dynamic translation is used.

The result is a translation that communicates both the words and the thoughts of the original text clearly and accurately to today’s readers. A translation pastors can preach from and one you can share with your neighbor hearing God’s Word for the very first time.

CSB SCRIPTURE NOTEBOOK

Read. Reflect. Respond.

2 | JOHN 1

Prologue

1 In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. 2 He was with God in the beginning. 3 All things were created through him, and apart from him not one thing was created that has been created. 4 In him was life, and that life was the light of men. 5 That light shines in the darkness, and yet the darkness did not overcome it.

6 There was a man sent from God whose name was John. 7 He came as a witness to testify about the light, so that all might believe through him. 8 He was not the light, but he came to testify about the light. 9 The true light that gives light to everyone was coming into the world.

10 He was in the world, and the world was created through him, and yet the world did not recognize him. 11 He came to his own, and his own people did not receive him. 12 But to all who did receive him, he gave them the right to be children of God, to those who believe in his name, 13 who were born, not of natural descent, or of the will of the flesh, or of the will of man, but of God.

14 The Word became flesh and dwelt among us. We observed his glory, the glory as the one and only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth. 15 (John testified concerning him and exclaimed, "This was the one of whom I said, 'The one coming after me ranks ahead of me, because he existed before me.'") 16 Indeed, we have all received grace upon grace from his fullness, 17 for the law was given through Moses; grace and truth came through Jesus Christ. 18 No one has ever seen God. The one and only Son, who is himself God and is at the Father's side—he has revealed him.

INTRODUCTION TO GENESIS
nation which in turn would bless all nations (Gen. 12:13). God repeats His oath in Genesis 22:18, adding further that it would be through Abraham's seed that all nations would someday be blessed. Paul applies the singular noun "seed" as a reference to Christ (Gal. 3:16). It is through Christ, Abraham's prophesied descendant, that the blessings of the Abrahamic Covenant would come to every nation.
CONTRIBUTION TO THE BIBLE Genesis lays the groundwork for everything else we read and experience in Scripture. Through Genesis we understand where we came from, how we got into our fallen state, and the beginnings of God's gracious work on our behalf. Genesis unfolds God's original purpose for humanity.
Genesis provides the foundation from which we understand God's covenant with Israel that was established with the giving of the law. For the Israelite community, the accounts of the origins of humanity, sin, and the covenant relationship with God helped them understand why God gave them the law.
STRUCTURE Genesis is chiefly a narrative. From a narrative standpoint, God is the only true hero of the Bible, and the book of Genesis has the distinct privilege of introducing Him. God is the first subject of a verb in the book and is mentioned more frequently than any other person. The content of the first 11 chapters is distinct from the patriarchal stories in chapters 12-50. The primary literary device is the catchphrase "these are the generations," in which generations means "family records." This phrase also serves as a link between the key person in the previous narrative and the one anticipated in the next section. Genesis could be described as historical genealogy, which ties together creation and human history in one continuum.

face of all the earth, and every tree, in the which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for meat.

²And to every beast of the earth, and to every fowl of the air, and to every thing that creepeth upon the earth, wherein there is life, I have given every green herb for meat: and it was so.

³And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good. And the evening and the morning were the sixth day.

THE SEVENTH DAY

² Thus the heavens and the earth were finished, and all the host of them.

³ And on the seventh day God ended his work which he had made; and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made.

⁴ And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made.

⁴ These are the generations of the heavens and of the earth when they were created, in the day that the LORD God made the earth and the heavens.

⁵ And every plant of the field before it was in the earth, and every herb of the field before it grew: for the LORD God had not ¹caused it to rain upon the earth, and there was not a man to till the ground.

² But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground.

³ And the LORD God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into him the nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul.

THE GARDEN OF EDEN

⁸ And the LORD God planted a garden eastward in Eden; and there he put the man whom he had formed.

⁹ And out of the ground made the LORD God a river, and good for food; the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil.

¹⁰ And a river went out of Eden to water the garden; and from thence it was parted, and became into four heads.

¹¹ The name of the first is Pison: that is it which compasseth the whole land of Havilah, where there is gold:

¹² And the gold of that land is good: there is bdellium and the onyx stone.

¹³ And the name of the second river is Gihon: the same is it that compasseth the whole land of Ethiopia.

ESSAY

THE UNIQUENESS OF THE GENESIS CREATION STORY

KENNETH A. MATHEWS

While there are many similarities between parts of Genesis and ancient Near Eastern (ANE) myths, there are also fundamental differences. These are seen especially in the significantly different views of the Creator and creation. Five features in particular distinguish the biblical creation account and perspective. So distinctive theologically is the biblical teaching from that of Israel's neighbors that it is best explained as the result of divine revelation, not the imagination or "religious genius" of the biblical author.

THE IDENTITY OF GOD

The basic identity of God as revealed in Genesis is distinct from all other ANE conceptions. The Lord God did not have an origin and did not have a female counterpart. In fact, Genesis does not present any kind of theogony (origin of the gods). God simply always existed. The concept of fertility was a common explanation among the ancients for how the world was created. It was believed that gods and goddesses joined in sexual union and thus produced the world, just as man and woman can come together to create a child. Israel's God, however, was revealed to be asexual, neither male nor female. According to other ANE religions the world (or parts of it, like the sun) was a divine "thing," whereas in Genesis the world was revealed to be an "it," a nonsupernatural reality brought into existence by a supernatural God.

NO RIVAL GODS

While polytheistic views dominated the ANE, Genesis revealed that God has no divine rivals. A common explanation for creation among the ancients was that an epic battle had raged between creator gods and antiretation deities. Ultimately, the creator god overcame the antiretation forces/gods, in some cases using the slain bodies of their enemies to make the stuff of the world. In Genesis there is no rival opposing the Creator. All creation obeyed the voice of God, as expressed in the recurring phrase, "and it was so" (1:7).

CREATION OUT OF NOTHING

In Genesis the Creator by inherent authority as Sovereign Lord spoke creation into a functional, wellordered existence. There was no eternal precreated matter, such as was believed in the ancient myths. Genesis says God spoke all things into origination. This does not mean He uttered words that possessed inherent magical powers. Rather, the irrevocable power of God's creation words was grounded in the authority of God Himself. Unlike the nature deities whose existence was limited to the world system, God existed before creation and above creation. Also, creation was not the emanation of divine person or power. It was separate from Him, a new reality subject to His will.

THE VALUE OF HUMANITY

In Genesis the Creator bestowed special value on humanity. Human beings in the ANE view were not indispensable to the operation of the world, whereas in Genesis they were essential as its chief caretakers. The Lord blessed humanity, assigning man and woman the responsibility to propagate and to rule over the earth (1:26-28). ANE myths explained the purpose of humanity as servants who met the servile interests of the gods. The Bible elevates the person and role of humans who were "crowned... with glory and honour" (Ps. 8:5), made in the divine image. God prepared the resplendent Garden of Eden for humanity, giving humanity meaningful work and purpose (Gen. 2:8-18). Also, Genesis presents the first humanity as individuals who were the progenitors of the human race.

THE SABBATH

In Genesis the Creator provided the seventh day as a holy day of rest and celebration (2:1-3), which was later memorialized in Israel's Sabbath (Exod. 20:8-11). The Sabbath was unique to Israel, not tied to the movement of the stars, such as in the ancient preoccupation with astrology. The Lord was revealed as Master of the material universe and of time. All creation was invited to join in the knowledge of God and in the worship of Him as Creator and Sustainer of all things.

Exalting Jesus in Psalms 119

Christ-Centered Exposition Commentary

BY DANIEL L. AKIN

Exalting Jesus in Psalms, Volume 2, Psalms 51-100 is part of the Christ-Centered Exposition Commentary series. Edited by David Platt, Daniel L. Akin, and Tony Merida, this commentary series, to include 47 volumes when complete, takes a Christ-centered approach to expositing each book of the Bible. Rather than a verse-by-verse approach, the authors have crafted chapters that explain and apply key passages in their assigned Bible books.

Readers will learn to see Christ in all aspects of Scripture, and they will be encouraged by the devotional nature of each exposition presented as sermons and divided into chapters that conclude with a “Reflect & Discuss” section, making this series ideal for small group study, personal devotion, and even sermon preparation. It’s not academic but rather presents an easy reading, practical, and friendly commentary.

Holman Illustrated Guide to Biblical Geography

Reading the Land
PAUL H. WRIGHT

The Holman Illustrated Guide to Biblical Geography includes more than 200 images and over 50 maps to provide a coherent and meaningful set of pegs on which to hang the events that march across the biblical stage. For many Bible readers (and teachers), one king, one battle, one story often blurs into the next. A geographical grid provides an objective structure to make sense of the biblical narrative. Historical and cultural geography give hue and texture to what are sometimes seen as rather flat, black-and-white pages of the biblical text.

- Chapters include:
- Exploring the World of the Bible
 - Building Blocks of Biblical Geography
 - The Land of Ancient Israel: The Southern Regions (Judah/Judea)

Biblical geography has great apologetic value. The biblical writers had to be accurate when presenting geographical material. Unlike some matters of history and doctrine, their assertions about the realities of landforms and climate, or about the relation of one city to another, or about the use of strategic routes could easily be verified both by their first readers as well as by contemporary readers. Verifiable geographic information provides a solid foundation on which to place and evaluate the veracity of other truth claims in the biblical text.

Urban Legends of Church History

40 Common Misconceptions
MICHAEL J. SVIGEL AND JOHN ADAIR

Urban Legends of Church History surveys forty of the most commonly misunderstood events of church history, from the period of the early church through the modern age. While these “urban legends” sometimes arise out of pure falsehood and fabrication, they are often the product of exaggerated recounting of actual historical events. With a pastoral tone and helpful explanations of where the error originally occurred, authors Michael J. Svigel and John Adair tackle legendary misconceptions like the early church worshiping on Saturday, or the unbroken chain of apostolic succession. Urban Legends of Church History will help readers avoid misunderstanding key events from church history, and guide them in applying the principles that have characterized the Christian church since first century.

Go Now to Shiloh

God's Changing Relationship with Sacred Places in the Hebrew Bible and Apostolic Writings
N. BLAKE HEARSON

In the Old Testament, God reveals himself to people in particular places so that they may communicate with and worship him. There are three broad categories for these places: temporary, movable, and permanent. Unlike the pagan deities, who were connected to the created world, God’s worshipers had to rely on him to reveal himself. Communication was often difficult, but God made it possible through places such as Bethel, Shiloh, and the Tabernacle. In the New Testament, Jesus takes these categories and applies them to himself, showing that He is the primary access to God. Subsequently, the Holy Spirit comes and gives believers unprecedented access to God, making them connecting points between God and the world. Go Now to Shiloh explores the challenges believers have faced when communicating with God over the centuries, and shows what an immense gift we have as New Testament believers.

¡Quiero cambiar!

I WANT TO CHANGE!

JUSTIN BURKHOLDER

We all want to change. There are aspects of our lives that we would love to be different. The question which we struggle with is how? If what we want is an abundant and fulfilled life, where do we find it? The Bible tells us that change is a process. After believing the gospel, we enter into a process of change that takes place from the inside out. This process is not as linear as we would like it to be. Rather, it is a slow and painful process that takes place throughout the course of our lives. This change occurs when we submit our lives to the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Todos queremos cambiar. Hay aspectos de nuestras vidas en los que nos encantaría ser diferentes. La pregunta con la que luchamos es cómo. Si lo que queremos es una vida abundante y plena, ¿dónde la encontramos? La Biblia nos dice que el cambio es un proceso. Después de creer en el evangelio, entramos en un proceso de cambio que tiene lugar de adentro hacia afuera. Este proceso no es tan lineal como nos gustaría que fuera. Más bien, es un proceso lento y doloroso que tiene lugar a lo largo de nuestras vidas. Este cambio ocurre cuando sometemos nuestras vidas al evangelio de Jesucristo.

Un ministerio para las mujeres

Para bendecir la iglesia local

WOMEN’S MINISTRY

CATHERINE SCHERALDI DE NÚÑEZ

There are multiple models on how to start a women’s ministry for the English-speaking American church, but the same is not true for the Spanish-speaking church. Although we are all one family in Christ and share common needs, there are cultural differences that prescribe different ways of approaching ministry and this concept applies to Latina women. What adds to the difficulty of this process is that within Latin America itself, there is a multitude of different cultures; therefore, each church will need to assess their needs and adapt the ministry to their congregation. In this sense, it is not about a “copy and paste” ministry model. What each church needs to do is study what others have done and then adapt it to their needs. Un ministerio para las mujeres: Para bendecir la iglesia local, is a useful resource that can act as a jumpstart to help womwn develop women’s ministries in their churches.

Dentro de la iglesia estadounidense de de habla inglesa, existen múltiples modelos sobre cómo iniciar un ministerio de mujeres, pero lo mismo no es cierto para la iglesia de habla hispana. Aunque todos somos una familia en Cristo y compartimos necesidades comunes, existen diferencias culturales que prescriben diferentes formas de acercarse al ministerio y este concepto se aplica a las mujeres latinas. Lo que se suma a la dificultad de este proceso es que dentro de América Latina hay una multitud de culturas diferentes; por lo tanto, cada iglesia necesitará evaluar sus necesidades y adaptar el ministerio a su congregación. En este sentido, no se trata de un modelo de ministerio de "copiar y pegar". Lo que cada iglesia necesita hacer es estudiar lo que otros han hecho y luego adaptarlo a sus necesidades. Un ministerio para mujeres: Para bendecir la iglesia local, es un recurso útil que puede actuar como un impulso para ayudar a las mujeres a desarrollar los ministerios de mujeres en sus iglesias.

A LIVING FAITH

PATRICIA NAMNÚN

Specifically written for the Christian woman, this five week Bible study on James aims to deepen the reader’s understanding of each chapter with the end goal that they discover its message in the process. Since the overarching message of James is how our faith must display a life of obedience, Patricia calls women to action and encourages them to live out the new identity they have received in Christ.

Específicamente escrito para la mujer cristiana, este estudio bíblico de cinco semanas en el libro de Santiago tiene como objetivo profundizar la comprensión del lector de cada capítulo con el objetivo final de que descubran su mensaje en el proceso. Dado que el mensaje general de Santiago es cómo nuestra fe debe mostrar una vida de obediencia, Patricia llama a las mujeres a la acción y las alienta a vivir la nueva identidad que han recibido en Cristo.

Ester - Explora la Biblia

ESTHER - EXPLORE THE BIBLE

DR. TONY EVANS

A six-session study that tells the story of Esther, a woman who was used by God to stand against unholy people to preserve the Jewish people and their culture and tradition.

Esther, who was a Jew, was also the queen of Persian King Ahasuerus. She used her influence at just the right time to save her people from annihilation when evil Haman sought to destroy the Jews of the land. Without the heroic acts of Esther, the Jewish nation and their religion may have ceased to exist.

Ester es un estudio bíblico en seis sesiones que explora la historia de Ester, una mujer a quien Dios usó para hacer frente a personas malvadas y preservar al pueblo, la cultura y la tradición judías.

Ester era judía, y llegó a ser la esposa del Rey Persia. Ella usó su influencia en el tiempo oportuno para salvar a su pueblo del exterminio cuando el malvado Amán buscó destruir a los judíos de la tierra. Sin la valentía que Ester mostró, la nación judía y su religión hubieran dejado de existir.

RVR 1960 Biblia cronológica

RVR 1960 CHRONOLOGICAL BIBLE

Many people are unfamiliar with the stories of the Bible and how they fit together into the grand narrative of God’s Word. God gave us the Bible to reveal great truth about himself and about our lives, and he wants to draw us into the ongoing story of what he is doing in the world. The RVR 1960 Day-by-Day Chronological Bible features a clear narrative approach to the Bible, arranging the complete text into a fresh chronological reading plan with daily readings. In this plan, the books, chapters, and verses of the Bible are thoughtfully arranged so readers can track the story of Scripture, day-by-day, from beginning to end, understanding the flow of events and how the grand narrative of Scripture applies to everyday life. Unlike other chronological Bibles, this arrangement is not dated specific, so the reading plan can begin at any point in the calendar year.

Muchas personas no están familiarizadas con las historias de la Biblia y cómo estas historias son parte de la gran narrativa de la Palabra de Dios. Dios nos ha dado la Biblia para revelar la verdad acerca de Él y de nuestras vidas. Él quiere que nos acerquemos a la historia continua de lo que hace en el mundo. La RVR 1960 Biblia Cronológica nos muestra una narrativa clara de acercamiento a la Biblia, organizando el texto de manera completa en un plan de lectura cronológico con lecturas diarias. En este plan, los libros, capítulos, y versículos de la Biblia esta ubicados cuidadosamente para que el lector pueda seguir la historia de la Escritura día a día, desde el principio hasta el final, entendiendo el fluir de los eventos y cómo la gran narrativa de las Escrituras se aplica a cada día. Diferente a otras biblias cronológicas, su disposición no esté fechada de manera específica, de manera que el plan de lectura puede comenzar cualquier día del año.
