REMEMBER

Let the fields and everything in them celebrate. — Psalm 96:12

READ

Psalm 95:1-7. The Bible invites us to praise God for making us, taking care of us, and loving us—just like the animals do in this story. When we praise God, we thank Him for giving us wonderful things to enjoy like food, family, and friends.

In the story, the animals each praise God in their own special ways, and we can too! Do you like to be artistic? Thank God through drawing! Do you like to run? Praise God through racing! Do you like to dance? Worship God through spinning! As we saw in the great farmapalooza, we can also come together to praise God with those around us. God has done great things for us—let's do what we were made to do and celebrate!

THINK

1. Which of the animals who joined in the great farmapalooza was your favorite? How did that animal celebrate or thank God?
2. How can you praise God in your own special way? What do you enjoy doing that you could also do to worship God?
3. What is one thing you want to thank God for today?
4. Name two other people you want to praise God with.
